

Educational Leadership Opportunity:

Mentor Educator-Full Time

Are you an experienced teacher looking to help mentor other educators while you teach? Our Beginning is a premier Reggio Emilia based early education school in Seattle and we are looking for a mentor educator. The ideal candidate for this position will have a BA or MA in the field of education, several years of teaching experience with early childhood or elementary age children, and a joy for everything related to childhood. We are looking for an educational leader who wants to design curricula, mentor other educators, and joyfully teach children.
